THE CHARLEROI MAIL

VOLUME XXI—No. 27. CHARLEROI, WASHINGTON COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA. WEDNESDAY, JULY 7, 1920. TWO CENTS

SCHOOL TERM WILL BEGIN ON MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 6TH

Usual Vacations Provided For and Term will End In June

DR. FADDIS RETAINED AS SEC'Y.

A regular meeting of the school board of the Charleroi district was held at the high school building, Tuesday evening, at which time, in accordance with the regulations of the school code, Dr. T. M. Faddis was re-elected secretary to serve for the ensuing year. E. W. Hastings was lected treasurer, and the Charleroi Savings and Trust company was selected as the depository for the school funds.

Quite a lot of business was disposed of, among which was the fixing the school term for the coming year. According to the schedule adopted the school term will open Monday September 6th. Two days vacation at Thanksgiving and ten days during the holiday season, from the 23rd of December to the 3rd of January are provided for. At Easter time there will also be a two-day vacation period, as well as one day on the 30th of May. The term will end about the 10th of June, 1921.

The annual tri-cities institute will be held this year at Monongahela, beginning Monday, August 30, and continuing until Friday, September 3, inclusive. The program for this insttiute is now being prepared and will be announced in due time.

The board also let contracts for the frescoing of the Second street and the Crest avenue schools to Dobbert Brothers of Pittsburg, who were the lowest bidders for the work. They will begin on these contracts immediately and will finish them before the beginning of the school term.

All of the old janitors who were candidates were re-elected at an increased salary. Daniel Chestnut, who has been the efficient janitor at the Crest avenue school, tendered his resignation and Emil Mandise was elected to the vacancy.

The annual picnic of the Sunday School of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church will be held on Thursday at Oakland Park. Cars will leave Fifth street and Fallowfield avenue at 1:20 and 2:10 in the afternoon. The committee on sports has prepared a fine program for the outing and all members and friends of the Sunday School are invited to take part. 27-t2*

FEDERAL MUSTER FOR CO. A, THURSDAY EVENING

Company A 10th Pennsylvania N. G. P., will be mustered by a United States Army officer at Monongahela, on Thursday evening. Capt. Gee expects toparade 85 men at the muster. He has ordered equipment for 90 men, with which number he expects to attend the encampment at Mt. Gretna, which will be held from the 1st to the 15th of August. The Tenth Infantry was the regiment in the National Guard of Pennsylvania, to be mustered into State service and it expects to hold the same honor with reference to being mustered by the federal authorities.

ROUTINE BUSINESS BEFORE COUNCIL

A regular meeting of borough council was held at the borough council chambers Tuesday evening, and routine business disposed of. All members, except Mr. Moody, were present.

Mr. Carson presented a request from the local board of trade which asked for the use of the tax collector's room on the first floor of the municipal building. Mr. Carson said the local organization was in good working shape now, and wanted some central location from which to direct its activities. Upon motion duly made and seconded the organization was granted the privilege of desk room.

The ordinance committee presented an ordinance for the improvement of Fourth street, at the corner of Lincoln avenue, and it passed final reading.

A sidewalk grade ordinance for Sixth street, from Shady to Oakland avenues, was read for the first time, and ordered printed and posted.

A sidewalk grade ordinance for the west side of Shady avenue between Fourth and Fifth street, was also read for the first time, and ordered printed and posted.

J. M. Fleming, fire chief, was present, and made a proposition to the council that it purchase the old fire truck, after which the fire company would arrange to purchase a new and modern truck equipped with a pump. The matter was laid over by council for further consideration.

John J. Oates was present, and requested council to turn over to the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Charleroi-Monessen hospital the amount of the license fee from the recent carnival. He stated that he understood that the license fee had been returned to the Chautauqua, and he thought it would be a fine recognition of the work of the ladies of the auxiliary to give them the license fee collected from the carnival. Members expressed the view that this could not now be done and no action was taken on the request.

Burgess Woodward made his report for June, which showed collections for fines amounting to $24.

The treasurer's report for May showed a balance June 1 $816.86 and collections during the month of $4722.89, making a total of $5,539.75. Disbursements were $3,279.52, leaving a balance of $2,260.19.

Expect Large Increase In Coal Tonnage From Upper Pools

With the recent appropriation of $700,000 for the building of a new lock chamber at Lock six, Rices Landing, and additional appropriations for the reconstruction of the dam at that place, the shipping of immense coal tonnage out of that pool and further up stream is assured. The principal shipper out of the Sixth pool is the Carnegie Steel company, which is keeping its plants in the lower river supplied with fuel.

The daily transportation of almost 14,000 tons of coal from the mines to the mills of the company is one of Capt. A. O. Ackard's chief duties. About 3,500,000 tons of coal were brought down the Monongahela river by the company in 1919 in its own barges towed by its own steamers. The Carnegie Steel company is now the principal shipper on the Monongahela and within the next few weeks will have the following steamers in commission: Ddquesne, Monitor, M. Wayman, W. H. Clingerman, Homestead, Edgar Thomson, H. D. Williams, William Whigham, and the Clairton, the latter thenewest addition to the fleet. The company also has the screw propeller Kanawha as well as boats of smaller power for use in and about the various mills and landings. The company has 140 steel barges in commission, but with all of its boats working full time, it is likely that this number will have to be increased.

The Carnegie Steel company also maintains the only barge with a dance floor, on the Monongahela river. It is used principally for outings of employes who spend the entire day on the river and is towed by one of the big towboats of the company.

It is said the Cernegie will be compelled ultimately to add to its line of steamers in order to take care of the varied needs of the company, which are increasing from year to year.

KILLED WHILE CELEBRATING

John Bun of Bentleyville, aged 35, was instantly killed by an explosion of dynamite on Monday which had been placed in a piece of gas pipe.

Bun and a companion were celebrating the Fourth by firing off sticks of dynamite. Going to an oil derrick near that place they secured a piece of pipe and placed two sticks of explosive in it. After lighting it they scurried to the engine house of the rig for protection. When it failed to discharge after a few moments, Bun stepped around the side of the structure to investigate. As he did so the dynamite exploded, and a piece of the pipe tore through his chest near his heart, like a piece of shell or shrapnell, causing instant death. Deputy Coroner James V. McDonough of Beallsville was notified and took charge of the remains. He leaves a wife, his parents, who reside at Smick and a sister at California.

OFFENDERS FINED BY BURGESS WOODWARD

Romy Ross appeared before Burgess Woodward last night, to answer a charge as to crap shooting, made by the police department. He was fined 10 and costs. Two other defendants arrested at the same time failed to appear and forfeited their recognizance. Another defendant charged with shooting blank cartridges in the borough limits was fined $8 and costs. Two others arrested on a similar charge forfeited their deposit of $10 each.

PASSENGERS HAD A NARROW ESCAPE

Passengers on the P. & L. E. railroad, which reaches Monessen at 5:15 had a miraculous escape from death last Thursday evening, when a freight car rounding a curve at a point between Belle Vernon and Fayette City swept along the entire length of the train while it was going at the rate of 40 miles an hour.

Every window in the train was shattered and several of the passengers were slightly hurt by flying glass. When the train finally pulled into Brownsville it presented a sorry appearance, two of the coaches being damaged. Baggage master Hurst, who was standing at the open door of the express car, was cut in numerous parts of the body by flying glass. The side of the engine next to the freight car was stripped and the fireman had a miraculous escape from death or serious injury.

ILLICIT STILLERS SAID TO BE ACTIVE

One man who was almost caught in the act of distilling "white lightning" in Donora and on whose premise five barres of raisin mash were found ready for the home-made still, a portion of which was taken after being turned over to the federal authorities by the Donora police, is now said to be in Westmoreland county, where he is making an average of fourteen quarts of pickhandle" every night in the week, according to report. He is apparently making a small fortune out of the illicit still.

NO MORE SUNDAY BALL GAMES WILL BE PLAYED AT FAYETTE CITY

Grounds Have Been Leased and Notices Are Posted Against Trespassers

WOULD FAVOR WEEK DAY GAMES

The fight by religious interests of Fayette City against Sunday baseball has culminated in the leasing of 197 acres from the Marine Coal company by Andrew Brown, wealthy farmer and President of the Fayette National Bank. An attempt to play Sonnday games in Fayette City has met with the arrest, conviction and fining of some of the players, and this phase has aroused a considerable amount of controversy in the community. Becoming tired of this manner in dealing the matter Mr. Brown leased the acreage where the ball park is located, posted trespass notices and notified those interested to keep off thepremises on Sunday. This caused the game scheduled for last Sunday to be cancelled and hereafter no Sunday games will be permitted on these grounds. It is stated that Mr. Brown has agreed to assist in financing week day games. There is no other available grounds anywhere near Fayette City where Sunday games can be played, and the action and attitude of Mr. Brown places a quietus on all further Sunday games for the time being at least.

However, there is to be a sequel to the games already played, and which will find its answer in the Fayette county courts. When the Sunday game was played on June 27 the constable took the names of the players, but information was made only against Manager Henry Wilson and Doc Russell. At a hearing before a Justice of the Peace a few days later both of the defendants were fined $4 and costs, the costs in each case amounting to over $80. Russell paid, but Wilson took an appeal to the Fayette county courts, where his case will be finally determined.

JURORS ARE DRAWN FOR AUGUST COURT

The grand jury and 160 petit jurors for the August term of criminal court were drawn from the jury wheel by the sheriff and jury commissioners on Saturday. On the petit jury for August 16 Harry Assetta of Charleroi is drawn. Fred W. Cooper, L. C. Grimes and Harry Lewis all of Charleroi, are drawn.

I will collect that rent, positively in advance and guarantee no vacancies. Clyde B. Cope, Real Estate and Insurance, 315 McKean avenue. 21-tf*

HEAVY PAYMENT OF TAXES BEING MADE

The last days of June, as well as the first three days of July brought heavy payments of merchantile licenses to the county treasurer's office. All of such licenses as are not paid promptly are placed in the hands of justices of the peace and collected by process, the costs adding considerably to the amount that is assessed by the mercantile appraiser.

Extensive payments of state and county taxes have also been made within the past ten days, as it is the greatest desire of property owners to avail themselves of the rebate of 5 per cent that is allowed on all taxes that are paid at this time. This discount will be granted by the treasurer during the next two or three weeks, and it would be well for taxpayers to bear this in mind, as the amount thus saved is very generous in this year when the millage had to be increased.

CARS COLLIDE AND ONE IS SERIOUSLY INJURED

Mrs. Mary Jennings, aged 65, is lying in the Monongahela hospital seriously injured as a result of an automobile wreck late Monday evening on the road between Finleyville and Hackett. She was riding with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hudock and two children and Fred Howarth in a Ford car belonging to Mr. Hudock. Two cars were approaching from an opposite direction and one attempted to pass the other just as the front machine was abreast of the Hudock car. In circling the front car the rear machine plowed head-on into the Ford and it was completely turned over, all of the occupants being buried beneath it. All of the occupants were more or less hurt, but Mrs. Jennings more seriously than any of the balance.

CHAUTAUQUA BEHIND IN UNIONTOWN GUARANTEE

The Redpath Chautauqua, which exhibited in Charleroi last week is now giving its series of entertainments in Uniontown. Practically the same conditions exist in Uniontown with reference to the guarantee that existed in Charleroi, as well as in Monongahela, there is a deficit in the guarantee. In Monongahelaa a sufficient number of tickets were subscribed at the close of the entertainment in 1919 to guarantee the entertainments, but on the final showdown the amount was about $125.00 shy. In Charleroi the Board of Trade was the guarantor and the amount of the guarantee was behind the mark. Now Uniontown is in the same boat. It seems to be a general condition with these summer Chautauquas to run behind the guarantee, which would seem to indicate that some other method should be inaugurated to secure the necessary amount of money to finance the undertaking.

THE FRENZIED OVATION.

Says the New York Tribune:—Just how fervently did the San Francisco convention seethe in the great Woodrow Wilson demonstration of Monday Well, you can believe almost anything you want to about it. There were observers present who reported every conceivable degree of ovational temperature. At a boiling heat, proudly alone in its torridity, was, of course "The World," whose headlines hissed and bubbled: "Great Waves of Wilson Fervor Sweep Convention."

A few degrees further down came "The Times" with "Democrats Wildly Acclaim Wilson."

It is a long drop from these faithful Democratic souls to the mildly Democratic "Evening Post." Its expert observer, Mr. Mark Sullivan, had high praise for the Cummings speech; but of the Wilson picture and the spotlight and the twenty-one minute demonstration the best he could say was this:

"The strict fact is that the demonstration did not get under way very spontaneously. It was stimulated by the band playing "Over There." "The Long, Long Trail" and other euphonic accelerations of emotion. Also, many members of the national committee, seated on the platform, did what they could by leading the audience, notably a woman member from Oklahoma, who made use of a white handkerchief to call the audience up.

"But it seemed to your observer that, however the audience may have observed, the bulk of the delegates remained unresponsive. It was a long time before there began the march of the delegates, led by their state standards, which is a feature of all national conventions."

We are not quite sure where to classify our own Heywood Broun. He is not a Democrat; but he is even less a Republican. Perhaps he is a fighting neutral, if there is such a thing. And Mr. Broun goes a shade further than Mr. Sullivan in his account of the frenzied ovation:

"The Democratic National Convention cheered President Wilson from 12:35 to 12:55 o'clock this afternoon. It was distinctly a dutiful demonstration. It began feebly and never got very strong. The galleries had no part in it.

"We are not a Wilson partisan, although we regard him as a tragic figure; but we are stating cold facts when we assert that of all the perfunctory demonstrations in a convention within our experience this was the least animated by sincerity. Nor are we forgetting that we once heard Senator Sherman cheered for fifty-six minutes."

It is sad that Democratic can be so elusive. Young Mr. Broun writes of "the cold truth." We shiver at the thought. We are deeply moved by Mr. Cummings' heart throbs for instance. Can it be, too, that they are subject to a discount ranging from 50 to 100 per cent? The idea is unbearable. If the heart of the world had not so long ago been broken to bits we should guess that we again heard it cracking under the strain of Democracy rampant.

THE INDEMNITY.

It appears to be settled that Germany is to pay thirty billion dollars of indemnity, and it is well for all concerned, for the amount to be definitely fixed and uncertainty ended. Compared with previous indemnities exacted and paid, it is a huge sum, but the war which Germany willfully precipitated was also ungarallelled both in its horrors and its inoculable destruction. Germany must pay the piper: she can not hope to escape the consequences of her misdeeds of the ruthless war which she so ruthlessly engaged with what may be accurately termed the last word in scientific efficiency. The only question is as to whether a government already burdened with debt to its own people can exact such an indemnity. In the opinion of observers she can, and such an opinion is reasonable, for the thirty billions are to be paid in annual installments covering many years. Installments of three quarters of a billion dollars a year cannot be regarded as crushing when we consider the enormous bond successfully put through at ferquent intervals during the war by this and other countries which Germany's misdoings dragged into the war.

In the end Germany may find that this heavy indemnity partook of the nature of a blessing in disguise. It will if it brings Germans to their senses and drives them to a man into the necessary business of hard work and careful saving, while the rest of the world persists in the present madness of industrial slacking and consequent underproduction. If the Germans go to work and the other people persist in loafing, Germany will come out on top industrially in spite of her debts.

OUR POPULATION.

According to the estimate of the Census Bureau the population of the United States is 105,000,000. This would mean an increase of only 13,000,000 in the last ten years. The growth between 1900 and 1910 was 15,000,000. The falling back is easily explained. The war stopped immigration. Our own participation in it resulted in many deaths here and in Europe and postponed many marriages. The cost of living has undoubtedly affected the birth rate in the last five years. Then there was the influenza, which in New York alone killed 27,000 persons in four months. After all, the important thing isn't how big we are, but how good; not how numerous, but how civilized and industrious. In a population race China can beat us hands down. The real test is not so much how many persons a country produces, but how much each person produces. We are big enough not to worry, but we are not yet busy enough.

MAKING THE BEST OF IT.

There is nothing like philosophy to soothe the feelings of the disappointed community. Spokane, the only city thus far in the 100,000 class to show a loss of population since 1910, finds consolation in the fact that many residents moved to farms just outside the town, and are not only helping to solve the problem of the cost of living by tilling the soil, but to all intents and purposes are a part of Spokane. Surely a pleasant way of looking at it? As a matter of fact, many if not most of our growing communities would be better off if a larger percentage of the inhabitants moved to the outlying sections and raised foodstuffs.

Senator Reed of Missouri, who was denied a seat in the Democratic national convention after being regularly elected from his district, refers to it as a "league of treason and covenant of national death." The Senator also says this nation is a government of 110,000,000 people, and not a one-man government, as certain people are apt to believe because of the present administration. It is evident that Senator Reed is not very much in love with the powers that be in Washington.

BRINGS SUITS AGAINST NATIONAL SLOVAK SOCIETY

Sofia Valvoic, Teresia Valvoic, Maria Valvoic and Frank Valvoic, widow and children respectively of Apol Valovic, of Charleroi, have filed a suit against the National Slovak Society of the United States of America to recover $1,000 alleged due as death benefits from said society, on a policy held by the decedent with said society. The plaintiffs aver that they complied with the terms of the policy, giving proper notice of death, proofs, etc. It is averred that the executive officers of the society have admitted the claim, but that the society has refused to pay the same.

In the seventeenth century English cards were established with heraldic designs. The king of clubs bore the coat of arms of the pope of Rome Spades, diamonds and hearts were adorned respectively with the armorial devices of the kings of France, Spain and England.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Town With No Streets.

The smallest dependence of France is Isle d'Hoedic, situated at the east of Bella Isle. Its population is 238. They do not speak French, but Celtic. Fishing is the principal industry, and they are provided with food at an inn managed by the women. The town has no streets.

Genuine Nutmeg.

Nutmegs are kernels of the fruit of a tree cultivated in Sumatra, Java, and the West Indies. The shape and size of this fruit resembles a peach and, when ripe, it easily splits in two parts, showing the kernel (or nutmeg) and mace, which surrounds it.

Playing Safe.

Percy Noodles says that when he asked the capitalist's daughter if she thought it would kill her to give him a word of encouragement, she said she didn't, but there was no use taking a foolish risk.—Dallas News.

RUSSIAN HERO IN PAJAMAS

Soldier of Denikin's Army, Decorated for Bravery, Attired in Altogether Unconventional Uniform.

The highest decoration for valor that could be given a soldier in Denikin's army was pinned to the breast of a soldier whose uniform ran a close second to that of Kipling's hero, Gunga Din, says a communication from Ekaterinodar, South Russia, to the Stars and Stripes.

The medal was pinned to the soldier's jacket, which was the upper part of a pair of pajamas, and the rest of his outfit was only a pair of British military trousers. He was barefooted and hatless.

The clothing worn by this man typifies the conditions that exist in the army fighting the bolsheviki in that country. They do not have a service of supply and they do not have a regulation uniform.

General Bradoff, who decorated the pajama-jacketed hero, wore the tunic of a British Tommie, and the guard of troops who furnished the background for the decoration ceremonies, wore parts of uniforms from a dozen different armies. With the exception of a group of Cossack cavalry, the decorated soldier was the neatest-dressed man of the lot.

The hero, on his own initiative, led a detachment of scouts in capturing a town from the bolsheviki. He was wounded in carrying out this exploit, taken to a hospital and given a suit of pajamas. When he left he took the pajama jacket to replace his wornout Russian tunic, and he had not been able to replace it.

WOULD MAKE EASIER READING

Boston Man Has Idea for Printing Books That Is Interesting but Revolutionary.

Why not print all books in such a way that every page is a right-hand page? asks D. I. Winslow of Boston, who claims a patent for his conception of how to do it. He holds that if one has to read pages on one side of a book only, this will be held more easily, the eyes will not wander, there will be no necessity for changing the position of head and neck when passing from one page to another. Thus reading, especially of big, heavy volumes, will be less fatiguing not only to the eyes, head and neck, but also to the arms and hands.

Mr. Winslow's idea is to print a book so that you read straight ahead from right-hand page to right-hand page, these being numbered consecutively; then, when you have read through to the last right-hand page, you turn the book upside down and continue reading as before, what in ordinary books are left-hand pages now being right-hand pages. This, of course, involves printing all left-hand pages upside down and numbering them consecutively from the back of the book. This would easily be arranged by the printer in laying out the forms, though to get the pagination of a large book correct would require some nice calculation on the printer's part.

Hawaii Claims Wettest Spot.

Hawaii now claims the wettest spots on earth. From records covering a long period, Cherrapunji, a village at an elevation of about 4,500 feet in the Khasi hills in India, has established a rainfall average of 426 inches a year, with a maximum of 905 inches in the questionable record for 1861. Short period observations show that Mount Waialeale, the central peak of the island of Kauai, with a height of 5,080 feet, has a yearly average of 476 inches; while estimates for nearby localities for the wet years of 1914 and 1915, when no records were kept, make it appear that the rainfall then must have exceeded 600 inches. Other parts of Hawaii are scarcely less damp. Puu Kukui, 5,000 feet high, on the island of Maui, has had a seven-year average of 369 inches, with a maximum of 562 inches in 1914. At least a dozen other spots, above 1,000 feet of elevation, are reported to have exceeded 350 inches in each of the years 1914 and 1918.

All the Protestant churches acknowledge the continual diminution of their congregations and are earnestly endeavoring to discover why the great majority abstain from public worship, says a Sydney, N. S. W., dispatch to the London Times. Several novel schemes have been propounded to make services more attractive, but the clergy flinch from any startling innovations. Recently Rev. C. Black at a meeting of the Baptist union declared that "Queen Pleasure holds high carnival," and continued: "The churches are unheeded by the mass of pleasure trippers, who patter by with feet tingling with the torch of the tango, ears atingle with the jingle of the jazz, and hearts aflame with riotous passion."

Record Energy.

Darwin has made many records, its most picturesque recent exploit being the deportation of unpopular officials from the Northern territory, but hitherto no one has accused the wharfmen in this tropical outpost of Australia's north of establishing working records. Recently, however, the management of Vestey's Meat works promised the wharf laborers loading a meat steamer payment for 17 shifts in order to get the vessel away promptly. According to a correspondent of one of the Southern newspapers, the wharf lumpers performed the work in 15 shifts and received £101 each.—New Australasian.

The Young Spurn Advice.

One peculiar thing of life is that when we grow old we cannot make the younger generation take our advice on matters of life. They say: "That may have been all right when you were young, but that was many years ago. Times have changed since then." It would be fine if we could have the younger generation start where we leave off instead of committing the same foolish mistakes that we ourselves have made, and yet it seems that this cannot be.—Dean Shailer Mathews.

Presidential Powers.

The president of the United States is by Article II, Section II of the Constitution, commander-in-chief of the army and navy and of the militia of the several states when called into the actual service of the United States. Under his general power as commander-in-chief he can order the army and navy anywhere he will, when necessary, to protect the rights of American citizens and their property, or to see that the laws are executed faithfully.

Defectives in the Orient.

There are 1,000,000 blind and at least 400,000 deaf in China. India has 500,000 blind. Nearly 5 per cent of the population of Cairo is said to be physically defective, usually blind or half blind. The natives of the African jungle, instead of being the lusty savages of imagination, are for the most part physically below par. The majority of them are malnourished and diseased and marked physical defects are common.

Traveling.

To any person who has all his senses about him, a quiet walk along not more than ten or twelve miles of road a day is the most amusing of all traveling; and all traveling becomes dull in exact proportion to its rapidity. Going by railroad I do not consider as traveling at all; it is merely "being sent" to a place, and very little different from becoming a parcel.—Ruskin.

C. & O. ENGINEER HAS TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE

C. T. Harry, of Ironton, Ohio, Able to Return to Work

C. T. Harry, of 409 North Fourth Street, Ironton, Ohio, is back on the job again, feels fine and hasn't missed a day's work since he began taking The Reese Formula R-11

In a statement Mr. Harry says: "I have suffered for years with stomach trouble, my liver and kidneys were also affected and, until I began taking The Reese Formula R-11, I was unable to work more than half the time. I despaired of ever being well again. Eating was a torture to me. I was bilious, bloated, and couldn't sleep; would get up in the morning tired, nervous, irritable and weak. I tried a number of doctors and every remedy I knew of. At last The Reese Formula R-11 was recommended to me. I bought a bottle and after the second day I began feeling better and was able to return to work.

"I have taken two and a half bottles and don't believe I ever felt better in my life. I sleep well now and get up in the morning refreshed and vigorous. The trouble with my stomach, liver and kidneys has all disappeared and I feel stronger in every way.

"My work requires me to be up at all hours of the day and night and naturally my meals are irregular but that doesn't bother me now. I consider The Reese Formula R-11 the best Stomach, Liver and Kidney remedy as well as a tonic and system builder to be had at any price. Such at least has been my experience.

HEARING HELD IN INJUNCTION CASE

Before Judge James I. Brownson in the Washington court on Tuesday afternoon a hearing was held in the injunction proceedings brought by the Miller & Coatsworth company of Donora against the Commissioners of Washington and Westmoreland counties and the Ferris Engineering company. The question at issue is the closing of the Donora river bridge while necessary improvements are made to the approaches of the structure on both sides of the river. The Miller & Coatsworth company operates a bus line between Donora and Monessen and claim that great injury would be done their business should the bridge be closed. On the other hand the commisioners and the contracting company contend that it is absolutely necessary to close the structure for a short time in order to protect the new concrete flooring. A preliminary injunction has been granted against the two counties and the contractor and upon the decision of Judge Brownson will depend its continuance or dissolution.

GASOLINE TURNS THE EARTH

Motorboats Are Replacing Gondolas in Venice, and Even the Windmills in Holland Disappear.

Motorboats in Venice, replacing the gondolas are not the only mechanical [illegible] that is coming in to disappoint future American travelers in Europe. A letter from Amsterdam tells us that the Dutch windmills are being replaced by mills operated by steam and electric power. Every year some of the old windmills are burned, and they are not reconstructed. Time may come when a few windmills will be treasured as relics in Holland, just as similar structures are still preserved on Aquidneck and Nantucket islands for their curious interest, says the Boston Transcript. Already windmills of American construction, with steel fans arranged in wheels, instead of the picturesque old wooden arms, had begun to make their appearance even in Holland. The metallic windmill with the revolving wheel, is more picturesque than the ordinary steam or water power mill, but it is not so picturesque as the old wooden affairs. On our western prairies and plains the tall windmills, with their big metal wheels spinning high in the air, are indeed a fine feature in the monotonous landscape, but even they are in danger of yielding to the process of pumping water by means of gasoline motors. The power of the wind, to be sure, costs nothing, while that of the gasoline motor may cost a good deal, but there are times when no wind blows, and the householder tires of waiting for it to rise. Less and less we are content to attend upon forces of nature. The beautiful sails are vanishing from the seas, to be replaced by belching smokestacks. On land windmills give place to structures operated by steam and electricity. The stalwart oxen are no longer seen at the farmer's plow; it is gasoline that turns the earth now. Homeward the weary motor barks its way!

FAMOUS CHIMES RING AGAIN

Bells of St Clements, in Old London, Appeal to Children, as in the Olden Days.

"Oranges and Lemons" rang out on the old bells of St. Clements on the last day of March on an evening as fine as any during the finest winter London has ever known. The bells rang, but few heard them, prevented by the roar of the Strand traffic. It was the first time the old nursery rhyme had been rung out from the steeple for a very long while. Some hundreds of school children who had been invited to attend the church, filed out at the close in small processions, piloted across the streams of traffic by the London policemen. Every child carried an orange or a lemon, a gift which made up to them for the faint tones in which the voices of the old bells reached their ears. Down the streets with the historic names running from the Strand to the Thames, St. Clements music was more audible, the sound carrying over the noise and roar, and into the offices where anybody, with a turn of mind for antiquity, has but to throw open his window to hear the sound of a bell cast in the year of the Spanish armada.

Unnecessary to Graft Skin.

When much skin is destroyed in burns, a common resort is skin graft, applied either in small isolated patches to grow gradually over the surface, or in pieces up to two or three inches square to cover a large portion or all of the wound. At a recent medical meeting, Dr. E. G. Beck of Chicago called attention to a process of culture by which skin may be made to grow without grafting, even over large surfaces. As the wound heals the granulations at the edge of the spreading fresh skin place an elevated barrier in its way and if these granulations are removed as often as every 24 hours the patient's own skin is given a chance and may be watched spreading over the raw surface. A protective covering of paraffin often promotes the replacement of skin without grafting.

In the same manner that coral is derived from certain minute sea-insects who flourish in the South Pacific, so certain iron ores are obtained from particular microscopic organisms.

That is the latest scientific discovery, which promises interesting developments.

It has been proved that these germs not only aid in the decomposition of rocks and in the formation of chalk and limestone, but play an active part in the forming of iron-ore deposits.

Laboratory cultures have been made of bacteria which deposit iron compounds both in surface waters and in mine water hundreds of feet under ground, and the hard crusts and slimy masses that choke up water-supply pipes have been found to be composed of millions of these "iron bacteria."

Nothing Green in Death Valley.

The natural vegetation of Death valley is scant and stunted. There is not a green thing that grows there naturally. The thorny mesquit trees are of a yellowish-green tinge; so, too, are the grease bushes, while the sage-brush is either a yellowish gray or the color of ashes. A little round gourd called the desert apple grows in some of the canyons. It turns yellow when ripe and has a thin meat within that is exceedingly bitter. The cactus that grows in and the valley in abundance is [illegible] here. In short, the vegetation of Death valley is [illegible] in comparison with the [illegible]

20 MURDERS RECORDED IN THIRTY DAY PERIOD

For the first time in recent history Westmoreland county was without a murder during a period of thirty days up to July first. Prohibition is given credit by many for the fact that not a murder was committed in the county during the month of June. For twenty-five years there have been from one to six murders a month in the county. Nearly all of these crimes were committed by foreigners, and in most instances the victims were persons of foreign birth or extraction. Many of the murders were notorious for the brutal methods employed. From twenty to forty-five murders annually has been the record yearly for over a decade. Coroner Harkins stated on Tuesday that liquor was mainly responsible for many of these crimes.

TEACHERS ARE SCARCE IN WESTMORELAND

There is said to be a dearth of school teachers in Westmoreland county, and it is said the shortage will reach between 200 and 300. The examinations for teachers are about over, and the number has not been materially increased. It was generally believed that the increase in salaries would induce many men to return to the profession, but this has not been the case. The rush has been in the other direction. Better wages are paid common laborers than educated and trained men and women. This fact is responsible for the decrease in the supply of teachers. There have been no men taking examinations for teachers during the present summer in Westmoreland.

STREET CAR FARE INCREASE DELAYED

The receivers of the Pittsburg Railways company announced yesterday that they had filed petiation with the Public Service Commission to increase the rate of fare to 8 1-3 cents or three tickets for a quarter, and that the commission had fixed a hearing for August 10. The announcement indicated the new rates of fare will not go into effect until about a month later than had been anticipated. They were to have been effective July 14.

STONES KEEP THEIR SECRET

Restoration of Stonehenge Has Revealed Nothing New of Interest to the Antiquarian.

The restoration of Stonehenge has revealed fresh evidence as to the original building of the famous circle. There are indications that the entire monument was surrounded by a circle of at least 40 stones, not one of which remains today.

The office of works, in conjunction with the society of antiquaries, is overhauling the monument, replacing fallen stones and exploring the site. Excavations have revealed sockets for a number of stones that are no longer in existence, but history cannot account for their absence.

During the excavations a number of hammer stones, chisels and burnt bones were found, also many articles of more modern origin, scraps of Roman remains, pennies and farthings of varying date even up to the present time. The places where these coins were found are a problem in themselves. Why, for example, should a half-penny of George III be found deeper in the earth than a farthing of James I?

A new map of the monument is to be drawn and preserved in the Antiquaries museum, but the object of the excavations, the discovery of the origin and purpose of the famous monument, is still unsolved by the recent work.—London Times.

CENTER OF HUN WAR POWER

Ruhrort, With Its Splendid River Harbor, Really the Most Important City of Germany.

Ruhrort, which had the largest river harbor in Europe, and which included the Ruhr basin, was the power plant of Germany's former industrial machine and mighty war engine.

Between the Rhine and Ruhr is Duisburg, city of rolling mills, foundries and factories. This beehive of industry was once a university town, but the school was supplanted by factories. Duisburg is connected with the Ruhr by a canal.

Farther up the Ruhr is Witten, important not only for its steel, but also for beer, soap and chemicals. The Ruhr basin coal fields not only were important to Germany because of their heavy production, but because they alone were accessible for water importation of ores. A canal connected Dortmund, a city of the Ruhr basin, with the Ems river, thus affording an outlet to the North sea at Emden. The Ruhr was made navigable from the Rhine to Witten, some 35 miles, by means of locks.

Connoisseur of Feminine Beauties.

An extraordinary request from a professor of anthropology in Vienna was received by the Western Australian minister for education. Mr. Colebatch. This Austrian professor appeals to the minister "as a connoisseur of feminine beauties" for photographs of several hundreds of the most beautiful women in Western Australia. He intends to publish these photographs in an illustrated catalogue of the beauties of all countries. While Mr. Colebatch's sense of humor has come to his assistance and prevented him from sending the extremely blunt replies vouchsafed trade letters from Austria and Germany, it may be understood without fear of contradiction that the Viennese professor will not publish the Western Australia reply. If a selection of press comments on the professor were forwarded to him he would recognize that Western Australia girls have the knack of saying the right thing in the right way at the right time.

It Followed.

When Aunt Helen kept company with a young lieutenant in the army she prevailed on her ten-year-old nephew to wear a soldier overcoat. The young lieutenant was succeeded by a boy scout executive, and Bobby received a boy scout uniform, which he had to wear to please auntie.

But the boy scout executive and Aunt Helen have disagreed and Bobby has been much interested in knowing who will be his successor in winning Aunt Helen's attentions. The other day he made a discovery, and came running in the house to tell mother about it.

"Oh, mother," he began, "you might as well get me a Prince Albert coat, a white vest and a tie. Aunt Helen is beginning to warm up to the minister."—Indianapolis News.

Fire runs have always been my pet worry when driving a car, so when I heard the excited clanging of a bell while riding through one of the city parks recently I pulled over to the curb, almost running into a lamp post in my rush. Then I turned around to watch the engines and discovered two small boys on a pushmobile holding the center of the boulevard and working a large bell overtime while a Sunday crowd laughed at the joke which was certainly on me.—Exchange.

Camels are a revelation in flavor, in refreshing goodness, in smooth, mellow-mildness. Yet, Camels have a delightful "body" that meets your keenest desires.

Camels are so good you will want to smoke them liberally. And, you may—for Camels never tire your taste! Camels quality and Camels blend take care of that! You will also enjoy Camels freedom from any unpleasant cigaretty aftertaste or unpleasant cigaretty odor.

If you want to get some personal information about Camels compare them with any cigarette in the world at any price!

Camel CIGARETTES

Camels are sold everywhere in scientifically sealed packages of 20 cigarettes; or ten packages (200 cigarettes) in a glassine-paper-covered carton. We strongly recommend this carton for the home or office supply or when you travel.
